The mission of the Junior State of America is to strengthen American democracy by educating and preparing high school students for life-long involvement and responsible leadership in a democratic society. The Junior State of America (JSA) was created by and for young people interested in what happens around them – from politics, to how government works, and contributing to their community. Since its founding in 1934, JSA has served as a place where students build leadership skills, learn civil debate, and strengthen their engagement through volunteering and activism. More than 500,000 students have graduated high school as more active, informed members of their community as a result of their participation in JSA. JSA chapters serve as the center of political awareness at their schools. JSA conventions and summer programs bring thousands of students together to learn from each other. JSA allows for an exchange of ideas through stimulating student debates, thought talks, problem-solving and a variety of simulations. By participating in these activities, each member gains a more intelligent and informed viewpoint. JSA also provides a wonderful chance to meet and make friends with scores of other bright, involved students who have similar interests. Students experience the drama and power of politics as well as the challenges and responsibilities of leadership. From its Council of Governors to chapter officers and regional cabinets, JSA provides several opportunities for young people to learn, practice and build their skills in project management, consensus building, and time management. All skills that prepare them for college and beyond.
