

Fourth-Graders Experience Science Day

Village School partnered with Mad Science to bring a day full of STEM education to its fourth-graders. Following an interactive assembly, students participated in workshops that explored the science behind weather and optical illusions, as well as the engineering of various structures. Students also worked with their classmates to complete a STEM design challenge and binary code activity. It was a day full of fun and learning!

