Village School Weekly Update

A Message From the Village Administration

Dear Village Parents & Guardians,

As we come to the end of our second week of remote learning, we hope you are doing well and are finding a way to balance the virtual learning opportunities and all the other responsibilities in your life. The teachers have shared what a wonderful job your children are doing on the assignments. They have even shared some samples of their students' completed work, which we thoroughly enjoyed viewing. Please let your children know how proud we are of them.

We realize you have moved into a situation that is unfamiliar and can be somewhat daunting. Your "school day" will not be perfect, and that's OK. Just try and remember both you and your child are adjusting to something new and there will be bumps along the way. There is no map nor perfect plan for this learning journey.

Here are just a few tips from us:

- Breaks and Downtime - Our teachers provide "moments of downtime" during your child's regular school day. It is important you do the same at home. A quick 15-minute break can do wonders for both you and your child. Weather permitting, your child should also be getting some outside time, like they would during recess at school. Keeping in mind that "social distancing" is best practice, please avoid such areas as playgrounds and other gathering spaces.
- Make a Schedule - As mentioned in our opening, it is helpful to have a daily schedule that includes learning time, chores, meals, recess, etc. It's also important to make sure that the daily schedule is not too ambitious and offers some choice and flexibility.
- Resources - The teachers and district teacher resource specialists have shared various resources to support your child while working at home. Please take advantage of these resources. There are also many additional resources included in this weekly newsletter such as health resources, a counseling and wellness website, a school counselor corner, and a curriculum corner.

In closing, please know you are not alone and we are on this learning journey from home together. As always, please feel free to reach out to your child's teacher or us if we can be of further assistance.

Fondly,

Barbara Gould and Guy Tulp
