STUDENT REPRESENTATIVE REPORTS

Allison Wu, co-representative from High School North, reported on current student council initiatives. She reported that hosts for the ToKnight Show, student council's biggest event of the year, have been selected and contestants will be selected soon. New club applications are open and can be found on the student council's website. Senior class leadership and advisors have been meeting with building administration, specifically Dr. Dauber, to discuss events during the second half of the year for seniors, including prom, graduation, and other activities. High School North and High School South's Black History Month celebration is being led by the Black Student Union and Media Specialist, Mrs. Carroll. The events will be taking place for the entire month of February. There is a S'more where you can find a schedule.

Edward Li, co-representative from High School North, provided an update on club activities. He reported that the North HOSA Team competed in the NJ Southern Regionals conference on Saturday, Jan. 30. The awards ceremony took place last Friday, Feb. 5, and 19 students from High School North medaled. Thirteen of the 19 medalists will be moving on to the NJ HOSA States competition, which will be taking place in March. The North Academic Decathlon team had their regionals competition on Friday Jan. 29, and Saturday Jan. 30, and their team will be moving on to the state's competition. The North Peer Leaders met with the current Community Middle School 8th graders last Wednesday to discuss general high school advice and tips for success. Mr. Li reported that the second marking period ended two weeks ago. As the school year is already halfway through, current 2022 juniors are meeting with their guidance counselors for senior year course scheduling. The winter sports season started recently and will be continuing for the next few months and spring sports registration opened on Feb. 1.

Saketh Subramanian, representative from High School South, reported that this month is Black History Month and South and North's administration have been working together with the Black Student Unions at both high schools to develop a series of events during the month of February. He thanked Mrs. Carroll and the Black Student Unions, and advisors, for all the work they put into organizing the events. The results of the senior all-in instruction survey showed more demand for in-person learning by seniors than capacity would allow. South administration is working on a solution and more information will be available soon. On Wednesday, Jan. 27, Mr. Lepold and the new assistant principal, Ms. Creveling, met with students via Zoom to discuss planning for spring and end of year activities including award ceremonies, proms, concerts, musical performances, and graduation. On Jan. 29, South announced the recipients of the first ever Pirate-ship awards. Students from each grade level were honored in the areas of relationships, scholarships, citizenship and leadership based on teacher nominations. Student un conferences, which allow students to discuss, teach, and learn about topics of their choice with like-minded students, are tentatively scheduled for Mar. 3.

Ms. Kaish thanked the student representatives for their reports.

SUPERINTENDENT’S COMMENTS

Dr. Aderhold thanked the student representatives for their reports. He gave credit to Mr. Anthony Jones, District Diversity, Equity, and Inclusivity Coordinator, who has been working with student leaders, building administration and club advisors on the Black History Month program as well as Mr. James Earle. Dr. Aderhold explained that the District Station Manager, Ty Jenkins, who is also a 2nd Lieutenant with the US Guard, was called to active duty for two weeks to defend the U.S. capital. Dr. Aderhold thanked Lieutenant Jenkins for his service to our country. The Superintendent reported that a health and safety update went out Friday explaining that WW-P experienced the first in-school classroom based transmission of COVID-19 last week. He also explained that the district continues to firmly adhere to safety protocols, including quarantine protocols for students and staff members for reasons including travel and exposure. Dr. Aderhold reported that he was recently named to a statewide committee of superintendents that will provide feedback on guidance for September. The last official guidance from the Department of Education was through the Road Back plan in June 2020. The NJ Department of Health issued guidance to schools in August 2020 and there have been a series of updates throughout the year, but no guidance for September yet. He explained that hybrid learning would most likely continue throughout this school year and that the district is preparing for a multitude of scenarios for September. As for vaccines, the superintendent stated that the District is awaiting information but pushing for educator vaccinations. Dr. Aderhold thanked District families for their partnership.

PUBLIC COMMENT

Board President Kaish opened the first opportunity for public comment:

Dr. Aderhold reported that there were no members of the public signed up to comment via audio and/or video.

Board Attorney Jeffrey Caccese read the following written comments:

Christine Hodges, 18 Zaitz Farm Road, Princeton Junction wrote:

“How many hybrid students as of today are currently going into the classrooms? What is the number of hybrid kids in each school? When will the district allow hybrid kids that want to be in school daily to do so like the kids who are all-in have been allowed to do (which is fantastic)? Thank you”

Latoya Edwards, 249 Robbinsville Edinburg Rd, West Windsor wrote:

"February is Black History Month and this year’s theme is the Black Family: Representation, Identity and Diversity. In keeping with this year’s theme, The African American Parent Support Group is hosting a number of events through the month: Black History Family Trivia Night, The History of the Divine Nine, Our Family Stories, A Spoken Word and Get Financially Smart. Please go to our website and/or our IG and FB pages for more information. Black History is American history and should be celebrated throughout the year. 2021-2022 Budget Discussion

Board President Kaish introduced Assistant Superintendent for Finance, Dr. Christopher Russo, to discuss information regarding the proposed 2021-2022 budget.

Dr. Russo began the 2021-2022 budget discussion by reviewing the District mission statement. He described the budget as a planning tool that considers contingencies, manages risk, is fiscally responsible, reflects the values of the community, and considers safeguards and buffers. Dr. Russo explained that the budget process is ongoing, with planning taking place throughout the school year. Important dates include the governor's budget address, which is scheduled for Feb. 23, 2021, followed by state aid notices, set to be released on Feb. 25. The preliminary budget will be on the agenda for approval on Mar. 9, 2021, and the public hearing on the budget will be held on Apr. 27, 2021. He reviewed the district’s accolades, including receipt of the Certificate of Excellence for financial reporting for the past 12 years from the Association of School Business Officials International and receipt of the Meritorious Budget Award for the past six years. Dr. Russo reviewed the 2021-2022 budget stressors, which included special services tuition increases, the custodial contract renewal, mid-year health care increases, staffing needs for program growth, additional special education transportation routes, salary increases, and the Energy Saving Improvement Plan (ESIP) start-up costs. Dr. Russo displayed budget history for the past five years. He also displayed the current year’s estimated revenues from various funding sources as well as the corresponding appropriations. He further broke down appropriations by function and category. Dr. Russo shared the actual per pupil costs for WW-P as compared to similar districts in the area and the increase in those costs over the years. The per pupil comparison chart showed that, on a cost per student basis, the District has been fiscally responsible in keeping costs down. He shared the Taxpayers Guide to Education Spending 2020 showing the District’s actual per pupil costs, student to teacher ratio, student to administration ratio, median teacher pay, and facility spending per pupil. The chart presented also compared WW-P with similar districts in the area. Dr. Russo completed his presentation with important date reminders, including the expectation of state aide notices on Feb. 25, preliminary budget adoption on Mar. 9, and the Public Hearing on the budget on Apr. 27. [The full presentation will be available on the district website in the budget information section].

The Board engaged in a brief discussion regarding per pupil spending. Board President Kaish thanked Dr. Russo for his presentation.
