I really feel sick in school in school because I do not have enough time to eat lunch, More books because I get frustrated because there are not a lot of books.	10/26/2016 1:53 PM
149	Make a interview station where everyone in the school would go in and talk to a person in there and then they tell what's wrong also i think that the next goals is to stop bullying and then since i got bullied here i don't want anyone else to get bullied so these teachers are not paying attention on what's going on OUTSIDE there classroom's and then everyone thinks that you would be a tattletale to tell the teacher so no point in having these lunch aids we need better one's they dont pay attention outside so now i think that millstone is a little unsafe since there are many many bullies that no one ever sees and none of the teachers care they just say next time you see them count to ten but that never works they just keep talking and being mean so i think that this is kinda bad we need the teachers to really listen because they are not actually "listening" and then that causes soo many problems that No one in this school will care for my problems will they..? And then i feel embrassed about how they just talk and talk but the solutions they give us never ever ever ever works for me and then my life is ruined from the bulles in my 4th grade year that I will always remember. Also when I came to this school I was amazed but now I think I like Maurice Hawk better, Where they have less kids and more people that I remember. But in total i think that everything here is great besides recess in lunch so ye that's why i think these will be the goals otherwise other kids will be like me and see everyone here as a jerk like I feel like.. everyone get on my nerves... And then my teacher [REDACTED] calls on me in the middle of a math lesson and then asks me whats wrong and I don't say a thing because she won't understand how me feel, and last year in third grade at maurice hawk, someone called me fat and Im so sad since i know and i dont wanna admit it so now that i know everyone here wont understand.....since in the past a lot happened so yeh this is what i think these people should work on... bullies... And if this happens to other kids, then im going to go crazy since this should never ever happen to other kids so bye see you later!! --- [REDACTED]	10/26/2016 1:47 PM
